I love being fat

It has been wonderful after the thin years to gain weight and now I am officially 30kg overweight. Always since childhood I admired fat women who had a big and round fat belly, and gradually I am having such. Yesterday when I went to the clothing store, the suitable size was finally xl and 42-44. There is no reason to avoid or calculate eating cakes, pizza, ice-cream or chips any more...and that is freedom. Such a part of life I have missed and instead of wasting time by running, I can enjoy short walks for a picnic.

How this shape could only stay because I do not want to lose any of the softness.

160cm and 94kg is a nice combination.
