
the new rules for chat?

Posted by BKL^ - 2008/04/06 15:33

Right something needs clearing up. some are getting blamed for user`s not using chat no more and it isnt on!
Now rumours have it Empress^Jo is posting rules in an 18+ adult chat room?

When will these be made available to the rest of the server so we no if we have broke them or not??

Or is this just utter rubbish as per usual??

Thanks Lizz aka BKL^

Sounds like rubbish to me! 18+ Adults can talk about whatever they like, thats the point of being an adult!

Ok, so i thought id stick my 2 pence worth in there aswell as someone who was in the room when all this started.

Chat Room rules were banded about between a few of the moderators, however nothing official was decided as we are all waiting for Empress^Jo to get in touch with us regarding having an Ops meeting, when we planned to discuss this matter further.

These proposed 'rules' were nothing more than clarification for the Ops as to what is and isnt allowed etc in chat and also the possibility of having some ruling for bullying within the room. Yes there have been instances of bullying and yes this has meant people have left chat. The bullying wasnt always done in a way in which the Ops could pick up on it either and so could not be dealt with.

So that is where the 'rule' idea came from. It was mentioned in the main room and this was an unfortunate incident which should not have happened until things had been clarified, however due to the hot headedness and eagerness of one individual it was mentioned in chat.

Hope this helps to clear things up.

News to me that I was going to be 'posting rules' in the room.

The 'rules' have always been the same in the room

- * Abuse if not acceptable in the room. Any overt abuse by a chat and kick straight out. Mild abuse, warn once if they don't stop then kick.
- * No racism, sexism, sizeism etc allowed. No warnings - kick.
- * No talk or references to illicit drugs - no warning - kick.
- * No use of capitals, 3 warnings then kick.
- * No flooding - no warning - kick.
- * Swearing is allowed so long as it is not being used to abuse another chatter.
- * No kicking for abuse in a private messages, to ourselves or a chatter. People can always ignore someone. Reason for this is that it can be abused and logs can be faked.

These 'rules' are also in line with Tiscali's server use. I do hope this clarifies this issue.

If people do have any issues please forward a log of the problem and outlining what the complaint is. I am happy to deal with this. Send it to webmaster@ukbigpeople.co.uk please.

Take care

Jo aka Empress^Jo
