
Parking Tickets

Posted by Richard - 2008/03/03 20:11

Before if the warden had not put the ticket on your car you could drive off and it wasn't valid. Now the law has changed there is no get out clause!

Legal drivers are the easy target!

=====

Re: Parking Tickets

Posted by Gloriousconfusion - 2012/09/22 16:53

I always appeal, as I have a blue disability badge - arthritis. So far I have had about 8 fines waived, and at the last parking tribunal, the arbitrator said that the court had no authority to cancel the PCN, as I had committed the offence, but that they were referring it back to the local authority with a recommendation to waive the penalty and an additional comment that in the circumstances I had described, she considered it a disgrace that the Council should have even pursued the case in the first place.

=====