
The Development of Big People

Posted by bouncertqy - 2009/11/10 12:37

One can only Congratulate with fullsome Praise the way the Founder and her supporters have developed this Site. It shows Big People at their very best without being Pornographic - and that sure takes some doing on the WWW.

It even caters for strange people like me (Male) who feel more comfortable with BBW Plus Size. Ladies - you are stunning! Be proud of yourselves!

We still have some way to go before we can say we have caught up with America and also with Clothes Design.

What are your thoughts on my comment?

Last but not least. Sincere apologies for any Offence that may have been caused in the Past.

Thanks for the compliments. As the developer I can only say its been fun working on the site finding appropriate ways to build the forum, gallery and other content.
